A. Summary

In my five years of teaching art to multiple grade levels, I have developed an excellent ability to cultivate creativity and maintain a productive classroom environment. I work to emphasize student involvement when it comes to the learning process, and I encourage each student to achieve their personal learning objectives. I am skilled in a variety of art-related fields, such as printmaking, painting, and drawing. Through this job, I wish to share my love of art with students, and to help them gain a stronger appreciation for the subject.
